My dear Mario

- if you allow me to call you thus - I apologize for having called you 'Professor', and I beg you to call me 'Karl'

I just got your letter, for which many thanks - also for the Russian review which, alas, I cannot read; but I shall get somebody to read it and tell me what is in it. (In fact, I have a very good <sup>(new)</sup> man in my department, a Hungarian, János Lakatos, who knows some Russian: I will ask him.)

I have made the changes you suggest. But it would be a great help if you could send me the reference to the Galileo passage which you ~~would~~ are kind enough to want me to use.

I agree with what you say about falsity. I still hope to see you in Stanford. Yours ever Karl
