From Sept. 13th:

c/- Minnesota Center for Philosophy

of Science

409 Johnston Hall

University of Minnesota

Minneapolis 14, Minnesota, U.S.A.

Until Sept. 13th:
Fallowfield
Manor Road
Penn, Buckinghamshire
England.

August 29th, 1962

Dear Mario,

Our letters crossed. Many thanks for your kind letter of August 21st which arrived today, sent on from the L.S.E., therefore the delay.

We are still at Fallowfield, and shall be there till September 13th when we leave for Minnesota, arriving there the same day.

In a hurry: the letters to the Consul IN being sent at the same time as this letter. We have put both addresses.

Also at the same time, we are sending you the Spanish translation of the Poverty (Taurus, Madrid, 1961).

The L.Sc.D. ought to come out (in Spanish, I mean), any day now. (Editorial Tecnos, Madrid; the translator seems to have taken an immense amount of trouble.)

And, please don't be cross, yet another last page (p.9) of the List of Publications. Karl discovered (accidentally) several bad blunders I've made. I suppose the best would be if you send us, when they are ready, the proofs of it. Sorry to have made such a mess.

When one reads your letter one's mind staggers at the thought of the many lectures, meetings, circles, groups, societies you are founding or are at least belonging to, or are giving! The mere thought of it seems overwhelming. However, the difference in age has to show sometimes; also, I believe we were always less volatile and more stodgy.

Love to both of you

Karl & Hermie

* Judging by the many & intelligent questions he put.

the state of the s Princip with all metalence before the contract of (*Issuer) in fewer an arms, in just of the and providing a part of the college to the college of the college

In 82671

Co 313