Dear Mario,

Many thanks for your letter of April 4. I thought you would give up Greece. It is a pity. Corsica may be nice, but hardly a complete substitute.

There is so much to be said that I cannot start.

I have your most impressive paper on the position operator. I am very sad, but I do not understand it: I do not know enough of the literature. But I have fought my way through it, and got a dim inkling, and was very impressed.

Hennie tells me that I have not replied to an old letter, of 13 February, in which you ask me the following question:

"Bob Cohen, of Boston University,

would like to publish the papers

read at the symposium. What is Kart's feeling about this? And... would he be willing to edit his own papers?

My answer is: yes, I should be willing; need a way feelings

are very painful.

Incidentally, I do not quite understand why Bob does not write to me direct; I should

very much like to hear from him.

If ever you have time to write to me about the position

operator a technical letter, I should be most grateful.

When do we see you again?

Yours ever

Kart
