Dear Mario,

I quite see that Mexico will be much preferable. You write "anyone who is not willing to talk about the so-called 'research programmes methodology'... is out." Precisely: that was just one of the reasons why you would have been my first choice: you could have opposed this silly fashion. However, the financial aspects in England are just too grim.

I hope that Mexico will live up to your ^{best} expectations. We spent there one week in 1973, but we knew nobody there; so we saw the University only from outside.

I was very interested ⁱⁿ what you wrote about mathematical models of social systems. I did not know that you were working on this. I am looking forward to your promised paper.

I hope your knee operation was successful.

Love to both of you from both of us
Yours ever

Karl
